Hanukkah

December 25th-January 2nd

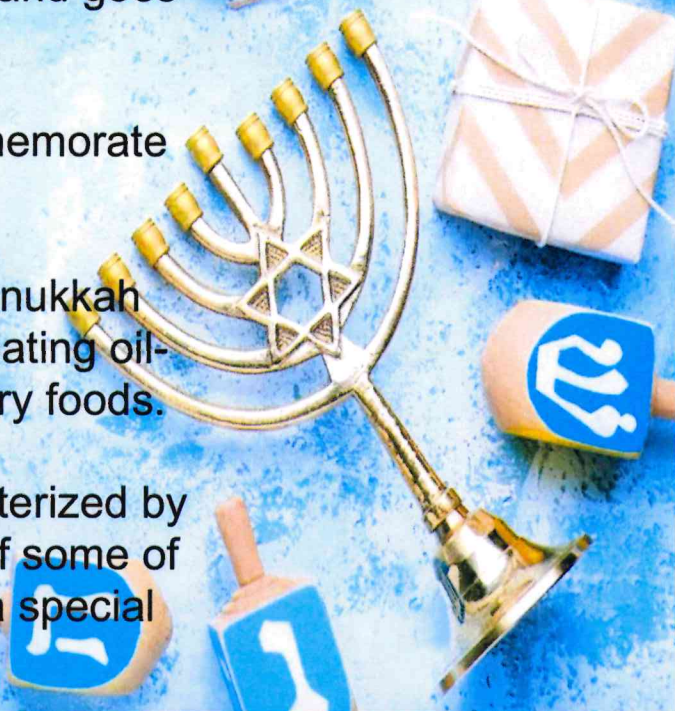

Hanukkah is known as the Festival of Lights.

It starts on the sunset of December 25th and goes through January 2nd.

Hanukkah lasts for eight nights, to commemorate how long the holy light burned.

Hanukkah festivities include singing Hanukkah songs, playing the game of dreidel and eating oil-based foods, such as latkes and and dairy foods.

The Hanukkah observance is also characterized by the daily reading of Scripture, recitation of some of the Psalms, almsgiving, and singing of a special hymn.

Debunking Common Estate Planning Myths

You might think estate planning is only for the wealthy or too complicated and expensive. These common myths often stop people from protecting themselves and their loved ones. The truth? Estate planning is for everyone, no matter your age or financial situation.

Myth #1: Estate Planning is Only for the Wealthy

Estate planning isn't about how much you have—it's about ensuring your loved ones aren't left with a mess. Do you have a bank account, a car, or personal belongings? If so, you have an estate. Estate planning also answers important questions like who will care for your children, make medical decisions for you, or manage your digital accounts.

Myth #2: Estate Planning is Complicated and Expensive

Estate planning doesn't have to be overwhelming or costly. A tailored plan reflects your family dynamics, assets, and goals without breaking the bank.

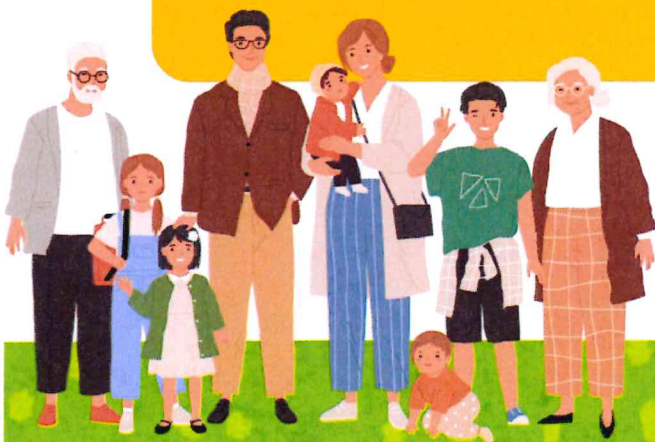

Myth #3: My Situation is Simple, I Don't Need an Estate Plan

Even if your situation seems simple, an estate plan is still essential. Without one, state laws will decide who inherits your assets and who makes decisions for you if you're incapacitated—decisions that may not align with your wishes.

Myth #4: Once I Create an Estate Plan, I'm Done

An estate plan isn't a one-time task—it should evolve with life changes like marriage, having children, or starting a business. Regular updates ensure your plan remains effective and reflects your current wishes.

Estate planning isn't about death—it's about preparing for life and protecting the people you love. Don't wait to take control of your future.
